Multiservice provider Klüh at new location in Hanover

With an annual turnover of 770 million Euro (2016), the multiservice provider Klüh Service Management is one of Germany's leading companies for infrastructure services such as cleaning, catering, security, airport service and facility service. Klüh has now expanded its network of German branches by opening a new location in Hanover.

Starting immediately, Branch Manager Kristin Edelmann and her employees are now supporting the existing customers in the region from the new premises in Wohlenbergstraße in the north of Hanover. The service provider's renowned customers in the state capital include companies like the Hanover Medical School (MHH), TUI and TUIfly, Henkel, the Santander Bank and the company Leoni Protec Cable Systems, a manufacturer of special cables. The family company with its headquarters in Düsseldorf employs around 200 people in Hanover, and the trend is up.

Reiner Worbs, Holding Managing Director of Klüh: "The opening of the branch office in Hanover is part of the consistent expansion of our regional presence in the area. With the branch in the Lower Saxony metropolis, we are moving even closer to our customers in and around Hanover and are thus able to respond even faster and more flexibly."
