Klüh Catering presents menus from a master chef – promotion in company restaurants

Employees of the municipal utilities pampered by TV chef Kolja Kleeberg

Düsseldorf, 22. November 2018 – The company restaurant of Düsseldorf's municipal utilities was the stage for a premiere: for the first time, a star chef was at the stove. Klüh Catering, which has been responsible for the "energy supply" of the 2000 employees of the core municipal utility companies since spring 2017, invited the employees to the promotion "Kolja meets Klüh". The Düsseldorf edition. The celebrity chef Kolja Kleeberg created special dishes for the municipal employees.

The TV chef, who has earned himself a Michelin star for 19 years in a row, cooked up four different menus for the municipal utilities. For a change, the marinated pot roast is not "Rhenish" but based on duck's leg. The "Königsberg" meatballs are now "Düsseldorf Klops" with potato and beetroot puree, and also vegetarians are able to tuck in – with chickpea curry with cauliflower rice. For those who like the exotic, there is the Klüh "Poke Bowl", where a grilled red-tailed shrimp plays the leading role on lukewarm sushi rice.

Klüh Catering manages 120 company restaurants nationwide, where it prepares predominantly fresh regional produce with the focus on healthy eating. Alongside "front cooking" and other offers, Klüh Catering banks on variety and offers its guests frequent high-standard promotions throughout the year.

Thorsten Greth, Managing Director of Klüh Catering: "This culinary event combines top quality and a variety of flavours. We are delighted about the cooperation with the celebrity chef Kolja Kleeberg, who stands for our quality standards with his newly created "Düsseldorf recipes"."
