

PRESS RELEASE

New association membership

Klüh Security becomes a member of the Bundesverband für den Schutz Kritischer Infrastruktur (German association for the protection of critical infrastructure)

Düsseldorf, 10.05.2023 – Klüh Security, a leading provider of security services in Germany, has now become a member of the Bundesverband für den Schutz Kritischer Infrastruktur (BSKI). The association is the central contact point for decision-makers from critical infrastructures (KRITIS). The objective of the BSKI is to identify security risks for KRITIS facilities and their suppliers early on and to reduce them by means of targeted protection concepts.

Through its membership of the BSKI, Klüh Security has a platform to participate even more actively in the development of strategies and concepts for the protection of critical infrastructures. Conversely, the company is able to contribute its extensive expertise in the area of security services and thus make an important contribution to safeguarding national security.

Sven Horstmann, Managing Director at Klüh Security with responsibility for the areas of innovation and industry: "The level of threat to critical infrastructures has increased considerably in recent years. As a provider of security services, we therefore wish to actively contribute to making the protection of KRITIS facilities fit for the future." For this, Klüh Security will contribute its many years of experience in the surveillance of endangered properties using security technology as well as individual security concepts.

Klüh Security has served numerous institutions and organisations from the area of critical infrastructure for many years. In addition, the company provides qualified security personnel at a large number of conventionally guarded military facilities. The strict requirements that Klüh Security places on its employees meet the highest security standards required in this field.
